

The Sir William Dale Centre for Legislative Studies is pleased to announce the

Sixth Law Reform Project Workshop

Reforming the Law: addressing the challenges and opportunities in small jurisdictions

Friday

3rd November 2023 14:00-17:30

Institute of Advanced
Legal Studies

Charles Clore House

17 Russell Square

London WC1B 5DR

This event is FREE but advance booking is required:

<https://ials.sas.ac.uk/events/reforming-law-addressing-challenges-and-opportunities-small-jurisdictions>

Enquiries:
IALS.Events@sas.ac.uk

W: ials.sas.ac.uk

Opening welcome and introduction

Dr Enrico Albanesi, Associate Professor of Constitutional Law, University of Genova, and IALS Associate Research Fellow, University of London

Jonathan Teasdale, IALS Associate Research Fellow, University of London, and former Lawyer with the Law Commission for England & Wales

Co-Leaders of the IALS Law Reform Project in London

Reforming the law of Wales: the Law Commission's work so far

Henni Ouahes, Head of Public Law and the Law in Wales, Law Commission for England & Wales, London and Dr James George, senior drafter at the Office of Legislative Counsel

Law Reform in Crown Dependencies: A Jersey Perspective

Professor Claire de Than, Chair of the Jersey Law Commission

The establishment of the Law Commission in the Seychelles in 2022: challenges and opportunities

Stefan Knights, International Legal Consultant

Break for tea/coffee

The Malta Law Commission: New opportunities in light of the Statute Law Revision Act, 2021

Dr Ivan Sammut, Associate Professor, L'Università ta' Malta and IALS Associate Research Fellow, University of London.

Making and changing law in Small Jurisdictions: introducing a new publication

Dr Caroline Morris, Director of the Centre for Small States and Reader in Law, Queen Mary University of London

Closing remarks by IALS Law Reform Project co-leaders